

Postnatal depression can look like...

- feeling low or not feeling anything
- feeling hopeless or worthless
- losing interest in others, including your new baby
- sleeping too much, or having difficulty sleeping
- difficulty coping with daily activities
- thoughts of harming yourself or your child

